Status Surprise, I'm in Thailand now :) Hanoi was way too cold and the allure of a warm beach was too much. I'm on what lonely planet calls the most beautiful beach in Thailand, and although I have see no other Thai beaches, it is the most beautiful beach I have seen by far. If there was surf, I might just settle down here :) It took a boat ride and a hike over a mountain to get here, so I think the place selects for the kinda person up for that. If you are reading this now, I am sending you mellow vibes from tonsai :) □□□□□□□□
