Has anyone actually tried out the MDMA they've received.

I'd love some reports of these sellers (or other) goods.

My report of charledome's Q-Dance / Powerbutton pills:

Me and some friends did these. I started with ½ and my friends with 1 pill. We later on boosted with ½ more.

We felt nice, very friendly and danced a lot. But neither of us did roll (no 'waves' of pleasure and colours weren't intensified) and that pure euphoria weren't really there (although we felt nice).

Some of my friends are veterans and they said that these weren't that strong (they should be according to pillreports).

verdict: 3½ / 5

Marquis test showed some purple/black, but also brown.
Mcpp test showed yellow (contains phenylpiperazines)

i only tested aakovens product.

i ordered on a monday and had the product in my mailbox on friday. netherland to EU. the product was vacuum sealed and hidden - no problem there. quite good actually. the only thing to improve would be a printed label on the envelope...

you really get what you order.

5/5 if there would be a printed label 5* 😊

I bought the "Q Dance" by charledome, Because I Had seen on pillreports, That were really good ...

but according to my extensive experience with ecstasy, I can say that these "q dance" are very very weak...

I do not understand why on pillreports...they say that they are strong...This means that the writer does not understand a fucking of ecstasy
